Orlando film company takes wedding photography to new heights with drone technology

Orlando, Fla. (May 30, 2015) -- Pine Castle Films® is taking their wedding photo and videography business to the next level by implementing drone technology as part of their dynamic service lineup.

The remote controlled drone Pine Castle Films uses is capable of flying over an event at heights up to 400 feet, allowing it to capture some truly amazing images. The technology is ideal for outdoor weddings, an extremely popular option in Florida, but the talented team at Pine Castle Films has also used the drone in larger, indoor venues as well.

“It’s added a unique quality to our product that a lot of other people don’t have,” says Jeff Ottum, the Director of Pine Castle Films. “It’s really helped propel the company--no pun intended.”

Based in Orlando, Pine Castle Films® is a fast growing event photography company that offers a wide lineup of products to their clients, ranging from still photography to professionally edited videos. With the addition of aerial drone technology, Pine Castle Films can now deliver images of a quality and scale that is unprecedented in typical event photography.
